

English

FIRST ADDITIONAL LANGUAGE

SUBJECT DESCRIPTION

English First Additional language is a core subject that empowers all learners to take their place in a predominated-English world. English can be seen as crucial life skill in the modern world. A variety of lessons ranging from literature, creative writing, reading and speaking fluently, to be able to express and uphold yourself in society. Learning a First Additional Language promotes multilingualism and interculture communication.

KOSTER
GEKOMBINEERDE SKOOL

SUBJECT CONTENT:

The CAPS curriculum divides the English syllabus into four areas of study:

- LISTENING AND SPEAKING
- READING AND VIEWING
- WRITING AND PRESENTING
- LANGUAGE STRUCTURE AND CONVENTIONS

Keep in mind, in an increasingly technological and visually inclined world, learners neglect reading as a vital ingredient to academic success. We encourage reading, because readers have a wider vocabulary, awareness of language structures and comprehension of literary and comprehension texts.

